IT Services Global Industry Guide 2015-2024

SUMMARY

Global IT Services industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: industry size (value 2015-19, and forecast to 2024). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the industry.

Essential resource for top-line data and analysis covering the global IT services industry. Includes industry size and segmentation data, textual and graphical analysis of industry growth trends and leading companies.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The IT services industry is valued as the combination of the business process outsourcing (BPO) services market, the application services market and the infrastructure services market. Values include revenues generated from (a) signed deals that remain under contract and (b) new contracts signed within that particular calendar year.

The BPO services market is defined as the revenues from services related to the following segments: customer relationship management (CRM), finance and accounting, human resources, knowledge process outsourcing, and procurement and supply-chain.

The application services market is defined as the revenues from services related to the following segments: application development, application management and application performance monitoring.

The infrastructure services market is defined as the revenues from services related to the following segments: cloud computing, data center & hosting services, IT management, security and storage.

All currency conversions are at constant 2019 annual average exchange rates.

The global IT services industry had total revenues of $1,275.7bn in 2019, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 13.5% between 2015 and 2019.

The infrastructure services segment was the industry's most lucrative in 2019, with total revenues of $762.1bn, equivalent to 59.7% of the industry's overall value.

The IT services industry is highly correlated with the gross domestic product (GDP) of a country.
