SUMMARY

Organic Food in Japan industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: market share, market size (value and volume 2017-21, and forecast to 2026). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

Organic food includes produce that has been independently certified to have been grown free of chemicals. For the purposes of this report, eggs have been classified as part of the meat, fish and poultry segment. Market values are taken at retail selling price (RSP).

The Japanese organic food market had total revenues of $1.6 billion in 2021, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.2% between 2016 and 2021.

The meat, fish, and poultry segment was the market's most lucrative in 2021, with total revenues of $528.5 million, equivalent to 33.6% of the market's overall value.

Japan's organic food retail sales are driven largely by imports, with relatively little organic-certified farmland in the country itself.
