KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The residential construction market is defined as the value of work put in place annually for residential buildings. Market value is defined in general as the total output value of construction activity in any given time period, including costs related to construction materials, equipment and services for new construction, refurbishment, repair and maintenance and demolition. All market data and forecasts are represented in nominal terms (i.e. without adjustment for inflation) and all currency conversions used in the creation of this report have been calculated using constant 2021 annual average exchange rates.

The Singaporean residential construction market had total revenues of $4.8bn in 2021, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of -9.5% between 2016 and 2021.

The new construction segment was the market's most lucrative in 2021, with total revenues of $3.3bn, equivalent to 68.1% of the market's overall value.

The market rebounded strongly in 2021 despite a decline in each of the other years in the historic period.
