KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The construction market is defined as the value of work put in place annually for both, residential and non-residential construction.

The Swedish construction industry had total revenues of $79,378 million in 2022, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 1.8% between 2017 and 2022.

The non-residential construction segment accounted for the industry's largest proportion in 2022, with total revenues of $40,184.7 million, equivalent to 50.6% of the industry's overall value.

Due to the abrupt change in financial conditions and the high inflation, the GDP is stalling, and there is a decrease in the demand for labor in Sweden. After a shaky 2022, the economy is predicted to stabilize in 2023, despite the unexpected and quick increase in rates.
