KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The travel and tourism industry consists of revenues generated by passenger airlines, passenger rail, foodservice, hotels and motels, travel intermediaries and casinos and gaming market.

The airlines industry is defined as the total revenue obtained by airlines from transporting passengers.

The passenger rail sector consists of all passenger transport by 'heavy rail' services, sector values in the report consist of revenues generated by operating companies through ticket sales, and so exclude state subsidies.

Foodservice is valued according to total sales of all food and drink (soft and alcoholic) in or through accommodation outlets, pubs, clubs, and bars, full service restaurants, quick service restaurants and fast food, and other.

The hotels & motels industry value consists of room revenue and non-room revenue, including casinos, shops and telecommunication services.

Travel intermediaries is part of a business that assists in selling travel products and services to customers.

The casinos and gaming market consists of all forms of betting and gaming. All values are stated in terms of gross gaming win. This is the total amount waged by customers minus the total amount paid out to customers as winnings, but before the payment of any applicable taxes, disbursements to charitable or other causes by games established for those purposes, or other expenses. The report only includes gaming activities that are legal in the country where they are offered. All market data and forecasts are represented in nominal terms (i.e., without adjustment for inflation) and all currency conversions used in the creation of this report have been calculated using constant 2021 annual average exchange rates.

The global travel and tourism industry had total revenues of $6,922.6 billion in 2022, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 0.5% between 2017 and 2022.

Food service was the industry's largest segment in 2022, with total revenues of $3,355.2 billion, equivalent to 48.5% of the industry's overall value.
