Abstracts

“The drilling tools market is projected to grow at a CAGR of 4.75%, from 2017 to 2022.”

The drilling tool market is projected to reach USD 8.61 billion by 2022, at a CAGR of 4.75%, from 2017 to 2022. Increasing drilling activities and the development of unconventional hydrocarbon resources along with growing energy demand in Asia Pacific are driving the drilling tools market. High maintenance costs and transition time along with an increasing focus on renewable energy sources act as restraints for the market.

“The drilling tubulars sub-segment of the drilling tools market, by type, is expected to grow at the highest CAGR from 2017 to 2022.”

The drilling tubulars market is expected to grow at the highest CAGR during the forecast period. The growth of the market can be attributed to the increasing drilled footage and development of deepwater oil & gas blocks in countries such as Brazil and Mexico.

“Asia Pacific: The second-largest drilling tools market.”

Asia Pacific is projected to dominate the global drilling tool market during the forecast period due to the increase in drilling activities in China. The country is the largest market in Asia Pacific and is focused on developing its shale gas resources to increase its oil & gas production. The other key markets in Asia Pacific are India, Australia, and Indonesia. Australia aims to be the largest LNG exporting country by 2020 by increasing its gas production.
