Abstracts

The market size for global piperidine market is projected to grow from USD 64 million in 2022 to USD 86 million by 2027, at a CAGR of 5.9% from 2022 to 2027. The growth of the piperidine market is attributed to their high demand as solvents, base and catalyst in pharmaceutical, agrochemical and others industries.

“99% purity segment to be the largest type of piperidine ”

Piperidine with 99% purity and above is the purest form of piperidine available. The pharmaceutical end-use industry is boosting the demand for piperidine with 99% purity. Some piperidine derivatives, namely, N-Methyl, N-Benzyl piperidone derivatives, are extremely useful and versatile API intermediates in organic synthesis.

“Agrochemicals to be the second-largest segment during the forecast period.”

Agrochemicals refer to the chemical products used in the agriculture field. They are comprised of pesticides, fertilizers, and other plant-growth hormones used in agriculture. The demand for agrochemical products is driven by the increasing global population and requirements to fulfill the increasing demand for food from limited croplands available.

“Asia Pacific to be the largest market for piperidine ”

Emerging economies in the region are expected to experience significant demand for piperidine because of the growing pharmaceutical and agrochemical industries. In addition to this, the growing population in these countries represents a strong customer base. According to the World Bank, Asia Pacific is the world's fastest-growing region in terms of population and economic growth. Factors such as the ready availability of raw materials and workforce, along with sophisticated technologies and innovations, have driven the economy in the Asia Pacific.
