“The global Polyether Ether Ketone (PEEK) market is projected to grow at a CAGR of 6.3% from 2016 to 2021”

The global PEEK market is projected to reach USD 664.3 million by 2021, at a CAGR of 6.3% from 2016 to 2021. The special properties of PEEK, such as high chemical resistance and greater dimensional stability over conventional materials have been driving the demand for PEEK in high end applications, including medical, aerospace, and automotive. The market for PEEK is expanding at a high pace; however, it still faces some restraints. The high price of PEEK and increasing competition from hybrid polymers and composites are some of the major inhibitors for the PEEK market.

“Electrical & electronics is the fastest growing end user segment in the global PEEK market”

The PEEK market, by end user, was led by the electrical & electronics sector in 2015. This segment is projected to grow at the highest CAGR from 2016 to 2021. The growth of this sector is due to the rising demand from end applications in the electrical & electronics industry, including electrical connectors, transformers, cable sheaths, and so on.

“Glass filled is the fastest-growing type segment in the global PEEK market”

The glass filled segment accounted for the largest share of the global PEEK market in 2015, and is projected to grow at the highest CAGR from 2016 to 2021. The major driver for the growth of this segment is the growing demand for PEEK products with greater strength and stiffness from key end-use industries.

“Asia-Pacific is the fastest growing market for PEEK, whereas, Europe held the maximum share in 2015”

The PEEK market in the Asia-Pacific region is projected to grow at the highest CAGR in the coming years. The growth of this regional market can be attributed to the increased demand for PEEK from the electrical & electronics, aerospace, and automotive end user segments in the region. Moreover, in 2015, Europe was the largest market for PEEK and is projected to grow at a high rate from 2016 to 2021. The stringent environmental regulations implemented in the European region has led to the increased usage of PEEK in the automotive industry for the manufacture of various interior, exterior, and under-the-hood components for automobiles.
