Smart card market: Report description

According to the report, 'Smart Card Market 2008 – 2015', the global shipments of smart cards are expected to reach about 8.8 billion units by 2015 from 5.2 billion units in 2009, growing at a CAGR of 9.6% during 2010 – 2015. Rising awareness about the benefits of the smart cards in access and identity security and growing adoption in sectors such as telecommunications, healthcare, and banking have been responsible for the continuous growth of the smart card market. The growing penetration of mobile phones has made telecommunications sector the largest consumer of smart cards globally in the form of SIM (Subscriber Identification Module).

The smart card technology is a major driving force for the payment transaction market, as it allows customers to make secure payments. Thus, it is expected that microprocessor based smart cards will continue to dominate the smart card shipments, as compared to the memory chip based smart cards. The microprocessor segment has accounted for shipments of 4.5 billion smart cards in 2009, which was 86.5% of the overall shipments (5.2 billion) of smart cards. The report provides extensive analysis of the smart card industry, current market trends, industry drivers and challenges for better understanding of the smart card market structure.

Markets Covered

This research report categorizes the global smart cards market for forecasting the revenues and analyzing trends in each of the following submarkets:

- On the basis of smart card interface:

Contact smart card

Contactless smart card

Hybrid and Dual interface smart card

- On the basis of components

Microprocessor

Memory smart cards

- On the basis of smart card application in various sectors:

Telecommunications sector

Government IDs and healthcare sector

Financial services, retail and loyalty sector

Pay TV sector

Transportation sector

Others

- On the basis of Geography

North America

South America

Asia-Pacific

EMEA (Europe, Middle East & Africa)

Each of the major and micro smart card markets include detailed analysis of the factors influencing the market, trends and forecasts, and competitive landscape to clearly understand major market opportunities and growth strategies required to successfully drive the global markets for smart cards.

Stakeholders

The target audience for this report includes:

Smart card manufacturers

Smart card operating system developers

Semiconductor manufactures

Smart card integrators & application developers

Certification bodies & test laboratories

Smart card users such as banking and financial institutions, mobile operators, healthcare and governmental organizations

Research Methodology

Size of the smart card market is calculated using top-down approach. Market trends and prices were used to arrive at market size, which was then verified by key industry players.

Market sizes were also verified by cost volume approach.

Prices and pricing trends in different geographies were identified and analyzed through secondary research, and then average selling price per unit was calculated.

Geographical market split was arrived at by determining population, cost of applications, and the adoption rate in different regions.

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Objectives of the study

1.2 Report description

1.3 Markets covered

1.4 Stakeholders

1.5 Research methodology

2 SUMMARY

3 MARKET OVERVIEW

3.1 Smart card industry structure

3.2 Value chain management

3.3 Porter's five forces analysis

3.3.1 Threat from new entrants

3.3.2 Threat from product substitutes

3.3.3 Suppliers' bargaining power

3.3.4 Buyers bargaining power

3.3.5 Rivalry among existing players

3.4 Contactless demand escalating

3.5 Telecommunications sector is largest consumer

3.6 Market share of smart card players

3.7 Patent analysis of smart card market

3.8 Market dynamics

3.8.1 Drivers

3.8.1.1 Growing interest for high capacity sim

3.8.1.2 Surge in acceptance of smart card projects

3.8.1.3 Contactless interface fuelled adoption

3.8.1.4 Security and reliability

3.8.1.5 Multi-application support by NFC

3.8.2 Restraints

3.8.2.1 Slow emergence of standards

3.8.2.2 Price erosion

3.9 Burning issues

3.9.1 High migration cost

3.9.2 Interoperability

3.9.3 NFC and M2M: success factors

3.9.4 Security related to contactless technology

4 SMART CARD TECHNOLOGIES

4.1 Technology overview

4.1.1 Smart card integrated circuits

4.1.2 Comparison of card technologies

4.1.3 Memory smart card

4.1.4 Microprocessor smart card

4.1.5 Smart card related products

4.1.5.1 Cards & microchips

4.1.5.2 Card readers & terminal (Point-of-sale) equipment

4.1.5.3 Software & services

4.1.5.4 Other smart card hardware

4.1.6 Smart card standards

4.1.6.1 ISO/IEC

4.1.6.2 ICAO

4.1.6.3 EMV (europay, mastercard and visa)

4.1.6.4 PC/SC

4.1.6.5 CEN and ETSI

4.1.6.6 HIPAA

4.1.6.7 IC communications standards

4.1.6.8 Global system for mobile communication (GSM)

4.1.6.9 Opencard framework

4.1.6.10 Global platform

4.1.6.11 Common criteria

4.1.6.12 Biometric standards

4.1.7 Smart card market by interface

4.1.7.1 Contact smart cards

4.1.7.2 Contactless, hybrid and dual interface smart cards

5 SMART CARD MARKET BY APPLICATION

- 5.1 Introduction
- 5.2 Telecommunication
- 5.3 Financial services, retail and loyalty
- 5.4 Government ID & healthcare
- 5.5 Transportation
- 5.6 Pay TV
- 5.7 Others

6 GEOGRAPHIC ANALYSIS

- 6.1 Overview
- 6.2 Smart card market - North America
 - 6.2.1 Shipments & forecast
- 6.3 Smart card market - South America
 - 6.3.1 Drivers
 - 6.3.1.1 Low-cost solutions
 - 6.3.1.2 Liability shift
 - 6.3.1.3 Multi – functional support
 - 6.3.1.4 Increasing government projects
 - 6.3.2 Restraints
 - 6.3.2.1 High implementation cost
 - 6.3.2.2 Decline in payphone uses
 - 6.3.3 Shipments & forecast
- 6.4 Smart card market - EMEA
 - 6.4.1 Shipments & forecast
- 6.5 Smart card market - Asia-Pacific
 - 6.5.1 Shipments & forecast

7 COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE

- 7.1 Introduction

8 COMPANY PROFILES
