Abstracts

The UK public expenditure on environmental services research report analyses the historic and forecast levels of public spending on issues of the environment in the UK. The report covers public expenditure on environmental protection, the countryside & water, urban environment and other environmental services. The report analyses trends over a five year historical and a detailed five year forecast period. The report includes an analysis of capital and current investment and includes regional comparisons of spending.

The report is updated to combine the up-to-date development and trends with the latest data available on the environment related public expenditure in the UK.
