Dairy Products Market (Milk, Cheese, Cream, Yoghurt, Milk Powder), Distribution Channel (Grocery Store, e-Retailing)– Global Opportunity Analysis and Industry Forecast to 2025

The global dairy products market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.2% from 2019 to reach $645.8 billion by 2025.

Succeeding an extensive secondary and primary research and in-depth analysis of the market scenario, the report carries out an impact analysis of the key industry drivers, restraints, opportunities, and challenges. The high growth of dairy products market is mainly attributed to rising population and urbanization, increase in consumer awareness level regarding nutritional food, and growing acquisitions in dairy space. However, growing demand for dairy alternatives and milk allergy and lactose intolerance are expected to hamper the growth of dairy products market.

Based on type, dairy products market comprises of milk, cheese, butter, cream, yoghurt, milk powder, desserts, and other dairy products. The milk segment accounted for the largest share of the global dairy products market, as it is the most consumed and marketed dairy product across the globe as well as due to increased production in last two decades and significant improvements in all the unit operations of milk processing.

Based on distribution channel, grocery retailers segment is estimated to command the largest share of the global dairy products market in 2019, as these stores offer one-stop shopping for consumers; a clean, comfortable, and extended opening hours; and much wider selection of household items along with dairy products.

Europe commanded the largest share of the global dairy products market, followed by Asia-Pacific. The large share of this region is mainly attributed to high per capita consumption, strong dairy culture, increased new product launches, and better trade landscape at the global level.

The major players operating in the global dairy products market are Nestle S.A. (Switzerland), Dean Foods Company (U.S.), Fonterra Co-operative Group Limited (New Zealand), Danone S.A.
