Peripheral Vascular Devices Market by Type [Angioplasty Balloon, Stents, Catheters (Guiding, IVUS), IVC Filter, Atherectomy, Thrombectomy, Hemodynamic Flow Alteration (Emboloc Protection, Occlusion)] and Geography - Global Forecast to 2027

The global peripheral vascular devices market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 6.9% from 2021 to 2028 to reach $12.02 billion by 2027.

Following a comprehensive secondary and primary study and an in-depth analysis of the market scenario, the report provides the industry's key drivers, constraints, challenges, and opportunities. The increasing prevalence of peripheral vascular diseases associated with obesity, diabetes, and hypertension; growing geriatric population; increasing demand for minimally invasive treatment options; and increasing prevalence of disease-causing lifestyles are the major factors driving the growth of this market. Furthermore, emerging economies such as India and China are expected to provide high-growth opportunities for players during the forecast period.

Based on type, the catheters market is segmented into angiography catheters, guiding catheters, and IVUS/OCT catheters. In 2021, the angiography catheters segment is estimated to command the largest share of the catheters market.

An in-depth analysis of the geographical scenario of the global peripheral vascular devices market provides detailed qualitative and quantitative insights for the five major geographies (North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, the Middle East & Africa, and Latin America) along with the coverage of major countries in each region. In 2021, North America is estimated to command the largest share of the peripheral vascular devices market, followed by Europe, Asia-Pacific, Latin America, and the Middle East & Africa.

The key players operating in the peripheral vascular devices market are Abbott Laboratories (U.S.), B. Braun Melsungen AG (Germany), Becton, Dickinson and Company (U.S.), BIOTRONIK SE & Co. KG (Germany), Blue Sail Medical Co., Ltd. (China), Boston Scientific Corporation (U.S.), Cardinal Health, Inc.
