Abstracts

The report finds shipment volume of the Taiwanese server system industry at the full system/barebones and board levels declined year-on-year but grew sequentially in the second quarter of 2017, to nearly 930,000 units. Bolstered by the rise in demand for data computing, the shipment volume of the industry is anticipated to have grown sequentially and year-on-year to nearly one million units in the third quarter of 2017 while the industry's fourth-quarter shipment volume is expected to be the highest of the year, approximately over one million units.
