Abstracts

The Connected Home ecosystem is rapidly expanding beyond merely Connected Entertainment (TV, Receiver, DVD Recorder, Media Player, Gaming Consoles) to include many areas such as Home and Office Equipment (Printer, VoIP Phone, etc.), Personal Consumer Electronics (Wireless IP Camera, Smartphone, Tablet, Portable Media Players, Navigation Devices, etc.), Energy Management (Temperature, Lighting, Heating and Air Conditioning), Safety, and Smart Consumer Appliances (Washing Machine, Refrigerator, etc.), and more.

The Real Time IoT Data Analytics market for Connected Homes will reach $166.5M globally by 2022

This research assesses the Connected Home marketplace, including major industry players, and solutions. The role of IoT and supporting technologies is evaluated with analysis of current market inhibitors and solutions. The report provides market forecasts for major market segments, sub-segments, and regional expectations for the period 2017 through 2022. The report also includes detailed forecasts for real-time IoT analytics in the Connected Home market 2017 – 2022.

Target Audience:

Network service providers

Semiconductor manufacturers

Embedded systems companies
