Adenocorticotrophic hormone (ACTH) is a hormone produced and secreted by the anterior pituitary gland. It is also called corticotropin or serum ACTH. The function of the ACTH is to regulate the level of steroid hormone cortisol, which is regulated by the adrenal gland. Growth hormone (GH) is a peptide hormone that stimulates growth, cell reproduction, and cell regeneration. Growth hormone is also known as somatotropin or human growth hormone (HGH). Growth hormone is produced by the pituitary gland. It is a stress hormone that increases the levels of glucose and free fatty acids. ACTH is associated with diseases such as pituitary tumor and adrenal malfunction. GH is associated with acromegaly and gigantism. Hence, ACTH and GH testing is an important factor to control and cure diseases.
