Abstracts

Crunch harness is a gym machine attachment used in crunch exercising machines and with any high pulley cable system. The extra-wide padded harness present in the crunch harness is used to protect the neck, shoulders, back, and chest while exercising abs and oblique muscle. The comfortable foam grips provide the user with quick and easy hand positioning. A heavy-duty solid steel D ring in the crunch harness is meant for strength and durability. Crunch harness attachment is used to protect the human body during exercise from cuts, burns, chafing, and abrasion.
