Dimethyl phthalate is a colorless transparent oily liquid with a slightly aromatic odor. It is miscible with organic solvents such as ethanol, ether, acetone, cyclohexanone, methyl ethyl ketone, methanol, n-butanol, toluene, etc. It is insoluble in water and petroleum ether. Dimethyl phthalate is a plasticizer with strong solubility in many resins.

Compatible with a variety of cellulose resins, natural and synthetic rubbers, and vinyl resins. It has good film formation, adhesion and water resistance, and high light stability and thermal stability; Often used with diethyl phthalate in the production of cellulose acetate films, varnishes, transparencies and molding powders. A small amount is used in the production of nitrocellulose. It can also be used as an extender for nitrile rubber plasticizer. DMP can also be used as a solvent for mosquito repellent oil (crude oil), polyvinyl fluoride paint, methyl ethyl ketone peroxide and DDT. When used as rubber plasticizer, it has no effect on rubber vulcanization, and the product has good cold resistance.
