Abstracts

A fixed bed reactor is a cylindrical tube filled with catalyst pellets with reactants flowing through the bed and being converted into products. The catalyst may have multiple configuration including: one large bed, several horizontal beds, several parallel packed tubes, multiple beds in their own shells. The various configurations may be adapted depending on the need to maintain temperature control within the system. Serial connection of two reactors with option to dose oxidant between the stages enable under optimal conditions to increase the product yield in oxidation catalysis. By dosing intermediates or products between the stages, valuable information could be found concerning the reaction pathways.
