Abstracts

Hop Pallet are used to give flavor, aroma, color and taste to a beer when mixed in appropriate proportions during the brewing process. While many factors create overall beer flavors, hops will have the biggest impact on how beer is perceived. Hop pellet is produced by crushing up dried hop flower and pressing them into pellets. Hops are commonly used for bittering and aroma in beer. Hop Pellet have a higher extraction efficiency than Hop flower when it is used for bittering purpose. Hop Pellet is more stable than Hop Flower due to grinding, compression and removal of moisture. Nowadays, Hop pellets is commonly used in commercial brewing and home brewing purposes.
