RAN automation takes over the role of carrying out daily repetitive tasks and processes by using a machine-learning functionality that is focused on the radio network. A RAN Intelligent Controller is a software-defined component of the Open Radio Access Network (Open RAN) architecture that's responsible for controlling and optimizing RAN functions. The RIC is a critical piece of the Open RAN disaggregation strategy, bringing multivendor interoperability, intelligence, agility, and programmability to radio access networks. The RIC enables the onboarding of third-party applications that automate and optimize RAN operations at scale. The RAN Automation and RIC product in the early stage (before 2020) of development is mainly a test version. Therefore, the test version of the product is also included in this report. The RAN Automation and RIC market covers Not Real Time, Near Real Time, etc. The typical players include AirHop Communications, AltioStar, ASOCS, Atrinet, Ericsson, VMware and Mavenir, etc.
