Abstracts

The shift from chemical water treatment to physical water treatment, strict regulations on water treatment and drainage, and changing climate change in precipitation are driving the membrane market. The use of NF membranes is increasing because they can penetrate monovalent ions and repel both divalent and multivalent ions. The flexibility provided by these membranes for ion separation and permeation offers clear advantages in industrial applications. Similarly, these membranes have lower emissions for water treatment than reverse osmosis membranes, reducing the content of heavy metals, salts and nitrates. These membranes also benefit whey protein concentration, fruit juice concentration, and other applications in the food, beverage, and pharmaceutical industries. NF membranes provide excellent selectivity, increasing industrialization and population growth are the main driving forces of NF membranes.
