Abstracts

Poultry is referred as domestic birds, which are bred by the humans for their eggs, feathers and meat. On the basis of physical appearance and nutrition content, it can be classified into ducks, chicken, geese, turkey and quails. Broiler is a type of chicken, raised by the processors for meat production. They have a yellowish skin and white feathers with behavior and physiology resembling with that of an immature bird. It takes 14 weeks of oldness to reach slaughter weight (approximately 500 gms). They are typically raised as a mixed-sex flock in large sheds under intensive conditions. Broiler production process involves seven crucial stages including primary breeding sectors, broiler breeding farms, hatcheries, broiler farms, processing plants, feed mills and integrators.
