Abstracts

The rare earth permanent magnet material refers to an alloy formed of rare earth metal and a transition metal. This permanent magnet material made by a certain process is extremely magnetic and can be maintained for a long time. Rare earth magnets have been developed for four generations. The first and second generations are RE-Co permanent magnets, ie Co-based permanent magnets: the first generation as type 5 SmCo alloys (SmCo<sub>5</sub>) and the second generation as Rare-earth Sintered Magnet 7 SmCo alloys (Sm<sub>2</sub>Co<sub>17</sub>). Since Sm reserve is scarce, Co and Ni is also a valuable strategic metal, the first two generations of rare earth permanent magnets have not been widely used, their major market are only for the high-end military area. The third and fourth generation rare earth permanent magnets are RE-FE-B permanent magnets. It is the third generation - NdFeB alloy (Nd<sub>2</sub>Fe<sub>14</sub>B), also the most widely used rare earth permanent magnet; the fourth generation is Sm-Fe-N alloy. (Sm<sub>2</sub>Fe<sub>17</sub>N<sub>3</sub>), but Sm-Fe-N alloy has not yet entered the stage of commercial production.
