Abstracts

Salmon oil is extracted from salmon. In addition to the function of ordinary fish oil, salmon oil also has the function of improving the blood pump of the human heart, improving the function of the human brain and other organs, and has special effects on heart, brain and kidney functions. It can be used to fight fatigue, eliminate cancer pain, rheumatism and various pains. It can also increase immunity and prevent tumors. The EPA and DHA in salmon oil are similar to human prostaglandins, so they have the function of dissolving blood clots and lowering blood fat. Participate in the combination of rhodopsin, enhance retinal sensitivity, relieve visual fatigue, and have the special effect of nourishing skin and helping calcium nutrient absorption.
