Abstracts

Sisal fibers are made of 65% cellulose, 12% Hemicellulose, 9.9% Lignin, and 2% Waxes. Sisal fibers can be available as plaid, herringbone, or twill. The fibers have good sound and impact absorbing properties. They have natural anti-static properties that do not trap dust or absorb moisture easily. The original plain color allows it to easily be dyed and allow for a large range of different color. Sisal twine is also naturally biodegradable.
