Abstracts

Super Phosphate is a Phosphate fertilizer made directly from the decomposition of Phosphate rock by sulfuric acid. The main useful components are the hydrate of calcium dihydrogen phosphate and a small amount of free phosphoric acid, which also contains anhydrous calcium sulfate which is useful for sulfur-deficient soils. Calcium superphosphate contains 14% ~ 20% effective P₂O₅ (80% ~ 95% of which is soluble in water), which is a water-soluble and rapidly available phosphate fertilizer. Gray or gray powder material (or particles), can be directly for phosphate fertilizer. It can also be used as a compound fertilizer.
