Abstracts

The video baby monitor consists of two parts: the supervision unit (also called the monitoring terminal or the baby terminal) and the display (also called the control terminal or the parent). The nursing unit is placed in the baby room and can display the monitor at any time to ensure the safety of the baby. As a home security product, the video baby monitor uses the monitoring terminal to monitor the baby's movements in real time, and you can clearly see your baby from any angle or close observation.
