Abstracts

Outdoor furniture such as chairs, tables, seating sets, dining sets, loungers, daybeds, and hammocks are quite popular among the residential and commercial customers.

Wood is known as an organic material with a natural composite of cellulose fibers that are quite strong in tension and embedded in a matrix of lignin that resists compression. Wood has been widely used for making tools and weapons, as a construction material, to prepare furniture and paper since long time. Wood has always been utilized extensively for outdoor furniture, such as chairs and tables.
