The 2021 annual edition of this Strategy Dossier report analyses the overall strategy focus and provides Insights into the Strategies & Plans being conceptualized & pursued by Daimler AG for its Trucks business for the near to medium term horizon. Daimler's plans to build further on its existing leadership of the global medium and heavy truck market spearheaded by continued dominance of the North American truck market, while taking on stiff challenge from Volvo & PACCAR besides Traton's latest market foray, and sustained technological leadership continue to be the key pivots of the company's overall strategy amid continued series of complex & difficult challenges presented by the COVID-19 crisis across most key markets & regions which contracted with China being the biggest exception to this global trend with the Chinese heavy duty truck market bucking the trend effectively and growing by almost 25%+ and registering a record 1.6 million truck units for 2020.

The Global Trucking industry has been impacted significantly by the COVID-19 outbreak in 2020 with declining volumes as well as profitability across OEMs while the industry continues to make steady progress towards development of sustainable technologies geared towards decarbonization of transportation. The efforts have primarily been led by battery electric & fuel cell technologies with the tipping point for electric trucks likely to come in 2021 with serial assembly of electric trucks scheduled to commence across trucking behemoths, Daimler & Volvo joined by PACCAR. Further, mass market production & introduction of hydrogen powered trucks across Europe by 2030 too is in the pipeline under the H2Accelerate initiative by the industry. The rapid move towards decarbonization & sustainability has also led to a spike in M&A activity as well as JVs & partnerships amongst leading industry players with the same likely to see a further uptick going forward.
