Abstracts

The report analyses the overall strategy focus and provides insights into the near to medium term strategic blueprint and key Strategies & Plans being pursued by Rheinmetall Defence for the near to medium term horizon amid a complex, difficult & challenging global macroeconomic environment with the Global Aerospace & Defense market being in an expansionary phase amid a surge in defense spending globally as the global power dynamic returns to great power competition and ongoing geopolitical tensions with ongoing Israeli military operations in Gaza causing tensions and keeping the entire Middle East region on the edge while the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war enters its third year in 2024. The global economy, on the contrary, is projected to be heading towards a slow down in 2024 following monetary policy tightening by central banks globally over the recent years to check inflation which have sparked recessionary fears globally.

The ongoing U.S. military assistance to Ukraine and the focus of U.S. defense spending towards competing with near-peer adversaries and maintaining traditional overmatch over adversaries have accelerated the pace of initiation & award of new large scale defense contracts of strategic nature, scale, scope & long term horizon while having also led to fast-tracked replacement of ageing, Cold war-era defense equipment with next generation systems & technologies. The global defense spending has been on a surge over the recent years which is likely to be duly sustained and is projected to reach the record $2.5 trillion level by 2025 as the industry prepares to ramp up production rates to unprecedented rates & level over near to medium term to meet huge global demand, replenish depleted inventory levels and to develop next generation capabilities.
