Abstracts

RM (formerly known as Research Machines) provides educational technology, services and products, as well as non-IT education resources and assessments to the education sector. Its decision to focus on the Building Schools for the Future (BSF) initiative in the UK has resulted in the company winning 13 BSF projects of the 36 projects awarded so far. These promise RM committed revenues of £226.5 million, which puts it at the top of Ovum's list of providers of software and IT services (SITS) in the education sector.
