Cordless Saw Market Review 2025

Overview

The cordless saw market is poised for significant growth as the demand for portable power tools continues to rise across various sectors. With innovations in battery technology and a growing focus on energy efficiency, the market for cordless saws is expected to expand rapidly, particularly among residential and industrial users. By 2025, the market is projected to reach approximately $3.2 billion, reflecting a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.5% from 2021 to 2025.

Market Size

The global cordless saw market size was valued at around $2.4 billion in 2021 and is expected to grow to approximately $3.2 billion by 2025. This growth can be attributed to an increasing preference for lightweight, easy-to-use tools in both residential and industrial applications.

Share & Trends Analysis Report by Product Type

The cordless saw market can be segmented by product type, with the following insights:

Reciprocating Saws: Account for the largest share, estimated at 40% in 2021.

Circular Saws: Expected to grow by 5%-8% CAGR, due to their varied applications.

Jigsaws: Increasingly popular among DIY enthusiasts, with a projected growth rate of 4%-6%.

Others: This category, including band saws and cut-off saws, is also witnessing growth, projected at around 3%-5% CAGR.

Key Players

The competitive landscape of the cordless saw market includes major players such as:

Makita: A leading manufacturer known for its high-performance saws and robust product portfolio.

Bosch: Offers a variety of innovative cordless saw options, focusing on precision and user convenience.

Milwaukee: Recognized for durability and power, appealing to both professionals and DIYers.

DeWalt: Known for their reliable tools, DeWalt focuses on the professional segment with advanced features.

HiKOKI: Gaining traction with its lightweight tools designed for ease of use and efficiency.

Ridgid: Offers a strong line-up of power tools, emphasizing user safety and comfort.

By Process

Cordless saws are leveraged across various processes, including:

Cutting: The primary function of cordless saws, used across multiple materials.

Trimming: Gaining popularity for its precision in woodworking and construction.

Demolition: Increasing use in construction and renovation projects.

By Application

Applications of cordless saws include:

Residential: Significant growth expected due to the DIY culture; anticipated to grow 6%-9% annually.

Industrial: Steady growth at 4%-6% CAGR as businesses continue to invest in power tools for efficiency.

By End-Use

The end-use segment details include:

Construction: Dominant segment; anticipated growth of 5%-10% driven by housing market trends.

Manufacturing: Expected to expand at a CAGR of 3%-5% due to automation and efficiency demands.

Aerospace and Automotive: Emerging sectors for cordless saw use, with growth projected at 3%-7%.

By Region

Geographical market distribution is vital for understanding market dynamics:

North America: Largest market, expected to maintain a share of about 35% through 2025, driven by high demand from both residential and industrial sectors.

Europe: Close behind North America, projected to grow at a CAGR of 5%-7% due to expanding construction activities.

Asia-Pacific: Fastest-growing region, expected to grow between 7%-10%, primarily due to rapid urbanization and industrialization.

Latin America and Middle East & Africa: Moderate growth anticipated, forecasted at 3%-5% CAGR.

Market News on Policy and Companies

In recent months, government policies encouraging energy-efficient tools have positively impacted the cordless saw market. Several companies, including Makita and Bosch, have launched initiatives promoting sustainability by enhancing battery technologies and reducing emissions in the production process. This aligns with global trends towards sustainable development and energy efficiency.

Segment Forecasts 2025 - 2030

Looking ahead, the cordless saw market is projected to continue its upward trajectory. Key forecasts include:

Risks: Supply chain disruptions may affect production in the short term but are expected to stabilize post-2025.

Opportunities: Advances in battery technology could lead to longer-lasting tools and increased consumer interest.

Market Penetration: Brands like Milwaukee and DeWalt are anticipated to dominate with innovative products tailored to the needs of professionals.

Conclusion

The cordless saw market is on a remarkable growth path driven by technological advancements, a shift towards DIY projects, and increasing demand for versatile tools. With leading players continuously investing in innovation, coupled with favorable policies, the market is set for robust developments through 2025 and beyond. Stakeholders and investors should closely monitor advancements within this space to capitalize on emerging opportunities.
