Overview of the Disodium Cocoyl Glutamate Market

The Disodium Cocoyl Glutamate market is poised for significant growth from 2025 to 2030, driven by increasing demand for eco-friendly and sustainable personal care products. Disodium Cocoyl Glutamate, a mild surfactant derived from coconut oil and glutamic acid, is widely used in baby care, face cleansing, liquid soap, shampoo, and shower & bath products. Its biodegradable and non-toxic nature makes it a preferred choice among consumers and manufacturers alike.

Market Size and Growth

The global Disodium Cocoyl Glutamate market was valued at approximately $120 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.5%-7.5% from 2025 to 2030. By 2030, the market is expected to reach $170 million-$180 million. The Asia-Pacific region is anticipated to dominate the market, accounting for 40%-45% of the global share, followed by North America and Europe.

Market Share & Trends Analysis

By Product Type

The market is segmented into liquid and powder forms. The liquid segment holds a dominant share of 65%-70%, owing to its ease of use in formulations for personal care products. The powder segment, however, is expected to grow at a faster rate of 8%-9% due to its longer shelf life and convenience in transportation.

By Key Players

The market is highly competitive, with key players such as Ajinomoto, BASF, Clariant, Miwon Commercial, Zschimmer & Schwarz, and Galaxy Surfactants leading the industry. These companies collectively hold a market share of 50%-55%. Ajinomoto and BASF are the top contributors, accounting for 20%-25% of the total market revenue.

By Process

The production process of Disodium Cocoyl Glutamate involves the esterification of coconut oil and glutamic acid. The enzymatic process is gaining traction due to its eco-friendly nature and higher yield, contributing to 30%-35% of the total production. The chemical synthesis process, although widely used, is expected to decline due to environmental concerns.
