Abstracts

Organic in beverages are defined as beverages produced with: Crops grown without the use of conventional pesticides, artificial fertilizers, or sewage sludge. Animals reared without the routine use of antibiotics and without the use of growth hormones. Food processed without ionizing radiation and without the use of a wide range of food additives. Food produced on all levels without the use of genetically modified organisms. Since the COVID-19 virus outbreak in December 2019, the disease has spread to almost 100 countries around the globe with the World Health Organization declaring it a public health emergency. The global impacts of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) are already starting to be felt, and will significantly affect the Organic Soft Drinks market in 2020.

COVID-19 can affect the global economy in three main ways: by directly affecting production and demand, by creating supply chain and market disruption, and by its financial impact on firms and financial markets.

The outbreak of COVID-19 has brought effects on many aspects, like flight cancellations; travel bans and quarantines; restaurants closed; all indoor events restricted; over forty countries state of emergency declared; massive slowing of the supply chain; stock market volatility; falling business confidence, growing panic among the population, and uncertainty about future.
