The growing accidents at the workplace and the employee safety and security regulations are driving the demand for grabber poles. As it helps employees to pick any dangerous or sensitive material which can cause harm to the human body. Furthermore, Grabber poles are also widely used to reach items on a shelf without the use of a ladder or step stool. They're even useful for dusting ceiling fans and cleaning the trim above windows. The length of the grabber is critical for these objectives in order to maximize functionality.
