Abstracts

The Global and China Magnesium Oxide Industry 2016 Market Research Report is a professional and in-depth study on the current state of the Magnesium Oxide industry.

Firstly, the global magnesium oxide industry revenue had reached to 4975.58 Million USD in 2015 and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 1.065% % from 2016 to 2021.

Secondly, China continues to dominate the magnesium oxide market as the largest producer, as well as the largest global exporter. In 2015 China exported of magnesium oxide 2568 K Tonnes, which was substantially higher than in 2014. Europe is another significant produce region, whose production market share was 21.70% in 2015. China is by far the world's largest consumer of magnesia, because it is the world's largest producer of steel and cement. In addition, the country has a much higher unit consumption of refractory materials for per metric ton of steel or cement produced, because of its less-effective plant technology compared with European or North American producers.

Third, the majority of the magnesium oxide produced worldwide is consumed as refractory magnesia. The primary use of refractory magnesia is in furnace linings in the iron and steel industry. The second major market for refractory magnesia is the production of cement.

Forth, development policies and plans are discussed as well as manufacturing processes and cost structures. The report covers the magnesium oxide's various forms, from crude magnesite, to dead-burned (DBM), fused (FM), caustic calcined magnesia (CCM) and synthetic magnesium oxide. The detailed classification and performance parameters are listed in the report.

Finally, the feasibility of new investment projects is assessed, and overall research conclusions are offered.

In a word, the report provides major statistics on the state of the industry and is a valuable source of guidance and direction for companies and individuals interested in the market.
