Abstracts

Oats are one of the most popular breakfast foods that consist of boiled water or milk; the resulting dish is oatmeal. They have become trendy healthy food across the globe. In today's changing lifestyle, oatmeal is instant, easy hunger food for tighter morning schedules. It's mainly eaten in form porridge with the popular topping of fruits and sugar worldwide. People also prefer Oats in various innovative ways in their diets such as oat cookie, oatcakes, oat bread, muesli, Idlis and uttamp. As per Renub Research, Global Oatmeal Market will be US$ 8.63 Billion by 2027.

Oats contains a rich source of soluble fibre beta gluten which reduces the risk of heart diseases and lowers cholesterol level in the body. This whole-grain powerhouse is highly nutritious, incorporating exciting flavours and texture. Both adults and teenage prefer oats due to its versatile and impressive health benefits. They are considered as most healthy cereal food. Avenal Sativa or oats are edible seeds of oat grass. It's now most common staple food available in all kitchens, especially the United States. In the year 2020, Oatmeal Market was US$ 4.97 Billion.

Based on how they are processed, Oats are available in a variety of forms in the market. Whole Oat Grouts or grain kernels contain the intact germ, endosperm, and bran and take longest cooking time. Scottish Oats are more used in cooking porridge. Quick or Instant oats are cooked, dried, and cut, then rolled thin for faster cooking.

Hyper and supermarkets are considered the more appropriate place for buying all sorts of FMCGs products at reasonable prices. These markets have various oatmeal flavours with numerous pricing options to choose for its consumers. Due to COVID-19 impact, E-grocery sites have also emerged as an alternate option to purchase all food products.

This report has covered the market and volume of top oatmeal consuming countries like the European Union, United States, Russia, Canada, Australia, Brazil, China, Argentina, Ukraine, Chile, and Others.

In contrast, European countries are more inclined towards oatmeal breakfast due to its affordability.
