India possesses world's most competitive gems and jewellery market due to its low cost of production and availability of skilled labor. As per our new research report "Indian Gems and Jewellery Market Forecast to 2013", highly skilled and low cost manpower, along with strong government support in the form of incentives and establishment of SEZs, have been the major drivers for the Indian gems and jewellery market. Presently, although, Indian market is highly fragmented, it is rapidly transforming into an organized sector.

Currently, the industry is growing at a tremendous rate on the back of growing demand and increasing consumer preference. With various government efforts and incentives coupled with private sector initiatives, Indian gems and jewellery sector is expected to grow at a CAGR of around 13% during 2011 - 2013. At present, Indian gems and jewellery market is dominated by the unorganized sector; however, the trend is set to change in near future due to the growing acceptance of branded jewellery market. As per our research report, with its consumption pegged at nearly 24% in 2008, India remains world's largest gold consumer and this share is expected to grow further.
