In this speech I am going to argue about the topic “Are we too much dependant on Computers”. In present world in our daily life as well as in our college life we have to perform various tasks that involve computers. From interacting with friends and family to completing the assignments we get from college computer is used. It is now involved in all businesses, transactions, trade, management and computers have become integral part of everyday life of people. In this speech I am going to argue against this statement and present both kinds of view about this statement and defend my stance about it.

“Are we too much dependent on Computers?”

Introduction

Argument 1: People who say that we are too much dependent on computers for everything are of the view that it's being used more than required and in unnecessary ways, people just try to ease themselves and use computer for all things that can be done better in other way.

Argument 2: Apart from this, it is causing serious health issues, children in past used to go outside and play now spend all day in homes spent inform of computer sets.

Argument 3: But my stance is that computers are necessity in this world, every era has its own characteristics and we have to keep moving with them by adopting them.
