Abstracts

This report is about the concept of management accounting and offers the analysis based on research studies, different industries and companies. Managerial accounting is the process of identification, measurement, evaluation, presentation and communication of data to attain company's objectives. The distinction among the managerial accounting and financial accounting is that managerial accounting provides data to management and employers performing inside the company while the financial accounting gives data to the stakeholders of the company that are performing outside like the external stakeholders. In the end the comparison is done on the basis of time, sector and company. Cont... (4000 words of this report)
