Abstracts

Anlotinib is an oral multi-targeting small-molecule tyrosine kinase inhibitor that can target multiple angiogenic factor receptors to inhibit tumor angiogenesis. It can be used for advanced non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC), soft tissue sarcoma, clear cell sarcoma, and other diseases. Anlotinib was developed by Chia Tai Tianqing Pharmaceutical Group Co., Ltd. in China. Anlotinib was approved for marketing in China in 2018. Its indication is locally advanced or metastatic non-small cell lung cancer that has progressed or recurred after receiving at least 2 types of systemic chemotherapy in the past. By 2020, Anlotinib has been approved for 3 indications in China, and the only manufacturer is Chia Tai Tianqing Pharmaceutical Group Co., Ltd. in the Chinese market.

According to CRI's market research, the sales value of Anlotinib in the Chinese market increases year by year from 2018 to 2020. Especially in 2019, sales reached CNY 650 million, an increase of about 20 times year on year. The main reason is that Anlotinib has been welcomed by hospitals and patients based on its therapeutic advantages since its approval in 2018. The CAGR of the sales value of Anlotinib in the Chinese market is 444.49% from 2018 to 2020.

CRI predicts that the sales of Rotinib in the Chinese market will continue to grow from 2021 to 2025, with the increase in the number of cancer patients. Lung cancer is the leading cause of human cancer deaths, accounting for about one-fifth of all cancer deaths. According to the data on the number of new cancers in 2020 released by WHO, the number of new lung cancers and deaths in China in 2020 is 280,000 and 710,000, respectively, which are the highest in the world. Anlotinib-treated non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC) accounts for 80% to 90% of lung cancer in China. The huge patient population will continue to expand the market of Anlotinib. In addition, the increase in indications will also increase sales. In the first half of 2021, Focavi's fourth indication is in the state of approval in China. It is expected that with the approval of new indications in the future, the patient population of Anlotinib will expand, and sales value and sales volume will also increase to a certain extent.
