Abstracts

Cefoperazone Sodium and Sulbactam Sodium is an injectable antibiotic. The original drug is SULPERAZON, developed by Pfizer. In addition to Pfizer, the other main manufacturers in the Chinese market are Zhendong Health, Lepu Pharmaceutical, Guangzhou Baiyunshan Tianxin Pharmaceutical, and Shenzhen Lijian Pharmaceutical.

In China, the pharmaceutical sales of sample hospitals have an increase trend due to the population growth, awareness of the importance of health care, and increased aging population. Among all drug sales, the share of anti-infectives in recent years has always been at the top of the list. Therefore, CRI predicts that in the next few years, the sales volume of Cefoperazone Sodium and Sulbactam Sodium will rise as the market expands.

According to the CRI's market research, the sales of the Cefoperazone Sodium and Sulbactam Sodium in China have an accelerated growth from 2017 to 2019. The revenue in 2019 is approximately CNY 1.57 billion in 2020, though it dropped about 13.69% compared to 2019. The reason for the decline is due to COVID-19. The CAGR of the total sales from 2016 to 2020 is 6.24%. Therefore, CRI analyzes that as the epidemic situation improves, the overall sales in China are expected to have a recovery growth in 2021-2025. In addition, after the implementation of the "4 + 7" policy (a plan for the centralized procurement), the price of Cefoperazone Sodium and Sulbactam Sodium may decrease, which could lead the market to expand in the future.
