Abstracts

China is an important producing area of global digital set-top boxes which is considered to be the largest production base in future 2-3 years. Meanwhile, China will be the important set-top box market with the promotion of “analogue television+ cable digital TV set-top boxes” mode. In future years, digital TV all in one won't take up the market of cable digital TV set-top boxes in China because of prices and policies. Cable digital TV set-top boxes always keep ahead in China market while IP set-top boxes and satellite set-top boxes hold a small part of the market.

Set-top box has a large space in China market. Recent years, cable digital set-top box is still the major part of the three platforms while terrestrial digital set-top box and all in one keeps the same speed. This report includes five aspects of digital TV set-top box industry chain: chip manufacturers, CA manufacturers, middleware providers, set-top box manufacturers and digital TV operators which analyzes China digital TV set-top box industry. It provides investors a reference to understand each link of China digital TV set-top box industry, forecast developing trends and control investing opportunities.
