Paper is one of the most environmentally friendly materials, biodegradable, easy to recycle, and can be applied to renewable energy sources. Corrugated paper is a common material used in paper packaging boxes. Packaging containers made from corrugated paper are lighter in weight than packaging containers made from other materials and have a certain degree of hardness and are easy to cut to size, which protects the packaged product from damage. According to CRI's analysis, corrugated paper packaging is mainly used in food, beverage, personal care, healthcare, e-commerce, logistics and transportation, and industrial applications.

With the rapid development of several industries in Southeast Asia, the demand for corrugated packaging is rising. According to CRI's analysis, the e-commerce sector, for example, has seen a gradual increase in e-commerce penetration in various countries, with e-commerce GMV reaching US$131 billion in 2022 and the number of online shoppers exceeding 220 million. Corrugated paper packaging is a major tool for e-commerce delivery, and the boom in e-commerce in Southeast Asia has contributed to the flourishing of its corrugated box industry.
