Abstracts

An agitator is a kind of device or a mechanism that makes something into motion by stirring or shaking. Agitators basically consist of a shaft and an impeller. An impeller is a kind of rotors which is connected to the shaft and mainly assists to enhance the pressure in respect to flow of a liquid to be done. Better mixing process and better control is achieved in modern industrial agitator. The agitator device finds its place for various purposes and application in the industrial sector. The continue rise in demand for industrial agitators for various application in several industries has augmented the market growth of them. In general, industrial agitators are used in mixing purposes of two or more substances. Industrial agitator has a wide range of applications in different manufacturing industries such as chemical, oil and petrochemical, gas, food and beverages and pharmaceutical. Moreover, along with this industrial agitator are also used in waste water and water treatment industries as agitator help in purifying of water thus keeping the pollutants out of the water. Rapid growth of industries in various regions has enhanced the growth of the market for industrial agitators during the forecast period of 2016-2025.

Industrial agitators offer wide range of benefits in the industrial sector. These benefits may include mixing of more than one material for many industrial applications. Along with this, many chemical manufacturing industries have already installed industrial agitators and regarding to this technological enlargement in industrial agitator has resulted in the growth of this market. In addition, among the different types of industrial agitator, the top entry industrial agitator holds the maximum revenue in recent years. The reason behind this is top entry industrial agitator provides benefits such as they can be used on either closed or open tanks. Further more, most of the necessity in mixing can be done with the use of top entry industrial agitator. Top entry industrial agitator also provides long service life. Hence, these factors in turn are expected to fuel the market growth of industrial agitators over the projection period.

Major applications of industrial agitator covered in report are water and waste water treatment, gas and petrochemical, oil, chemical, pharmaceutical and food and beverages. The industrial agitators market in report is segmented by type which includes top entry, bottom entry, side entry, static and portable. The global industrial agitator market has been moreover segmented geographically into North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, Middle East and Africa and Latin America.

Industrial agitator is a new kind of technology and is expected to grow at a high rate with the increase in manufacturing sector across the globe. Industrial agitator will be one of the major trends to gain traction in this market in the upcoming years. Industrial agitators are widely used in manufacturing industry for different mixing application needs. In developing countries, the rapid increasing demand for industrialization and urbanization is also augmenting the demand of industrial agitators.

Some of the major players in the industrial agitator market are SPX Flow Inc., Sulzer Ltd., Mixel Agitators, Silverson Machines, Charles Ross and Son Company, Chemineer Inc., Philadelphia Mixing Solutions Ltd. among others.
