Executive Summary

One of the most profitable industries of India is the tourism and hospitality industry. The sector contributes a noteworthy amount of foreign exchange to the country's economy. The hotel and tourism segment contributed foreign direct investments inflow worth USD 6,664 million in the period, April 2000 to April 2013. A key component of this industry are hotels which until recently had been posting a robust growth.

However, the hotel industry is becoming another victim of the recent slowdown in the global and Indian economy. In the fiscal 2012-2013, the average hotel occupancy in the country fell to the lowest in past ten years, by approximately 58%. Players are leveraging technology as well as resorting to innovative marketing tools to ward off the falling revenues.
