Executive Summary

By 2025, it is expected that India is will become the fifth largest consumer durables market globally. The consumer durables industry is projected to double at 14.8% CAGR to reach approximately USD 12.5 billion in FY15 from USD 6.3 billion in FY10. While India is witnessing a strong growth in the consumer durables segment, the air conditioner segment is highly under penetrated. While at present, more than 77% of households in urban India have a TV, 33% own a refrigerator, 17% have an air cooler, 13% own a washing machine, and just 6% own an air conditioner.

There is immense potential for growth in the under penetrated air conditioner market in India. The market is estimated to grow at a CAGR of over 10% during 2015-2020 boosted by rising temperature and longer summers, newer technologies, the booming real estate sector, rising urbanization and lower cost product launches. Consumer preferences is changing and energy saving models and inverter air conditioners are the fastest growing segment currently.
