Abstracts

Automotive ceramics components made from ceramics such as zirconia, alumina, silica, and others for automobiles. Examples include spark plug insulators, catalysts and catalyst supports for emission control devices, and sensors of various kinds. The global automotive ceramics market in terms of revenue is set to grow by US$ 480 million during 2021-2027, growing at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 3.9% during the forecast period, according to data and analytics company StrategyHelix.

The report provides up-to-date market size data for period 2017-2020 and forecast to 2027 covering key market aspects like sales value for automotive ceramics. The global automotive ceramics market is segmented on the basis of product, application, vehicle type, and region. By product, it is categorized into alumina oxide, titanate oxide, zirconia oxide, and others. The alumina oxide segment held the largest market share in 2020. By application, the automotive ceramics market is divided into automotive engine parts, automotive exhaust systems, automotive electronics, and others. Based on vehicle type, the automotive ceramics market is divided into passenger car, and commercial vehicle.

The report has profiled some of the key players of the market such as Compagnie de Saint-Gobain S.A., CoorsTek Inc., Elan Technology Inc., Ferrotec Holdings Corporation, Hognas AB, Noritake Co. Limited.

The report is an invaluable resource for companies and organizations active in this industry. It provides a cohesive picture of the automotive ceramics market to help drive informed decision making for industry executives, policy makers, academic, and analysts.

Report Scope

Product: alumina oxide, titanate oxide, zirconia oxide, and others

Application: automotive engine parts, automotive exhaust systems, automotive electronics, and others

Vehicle type: passenger car, and commercial vehicle

Region: North America, Asia Pacific, Europe, and Rest of the World (ROW)

Years Considered: this report covers the period 2017 to 2027

Key Benefits for Stakeholders
