Abstracts

Vacuum insulated panels (VIPs) are specially designed panels that use the insulation of a vacuum in a board shape. VIPs provide an insulating performance that has a significant improvement over other commonly available insulation materials. Because they rely on the insulation property of a vacuum they can easily achieve low U-values with minimum thickness. According to a report by StrategyHelix, the global vacuum insulation panel market is set to increase by US$ 503 million during 2021-2027, growing at a CAGR of 6.2% during the forecast period.

The report provides up-to-date market size data for period 2017-2020 and forecast to 2027 covering key market aspects like sales value for vacuum insulation panel. The global vacuum insulation panel market is segmented on the basis of core material, application, and region. On the basis of core material, the global vacuum insulation panel market has been segmented into fumed silica based, fiberglass based. The fumed silica based segment is estimated to account for the largest share of the global vacuum insulation panel market. By application, the global vacuum insulation panel market has been segmented into construction, refrigeration, warehousing & logistics, others. Geographically, the global vacuum insulation panel market is segmented into North America, Asia Pacific, Europe, MEA, Latin America.

The global vacuum insulation panel market is highly competitive. The leading players in the vacuum insulation panel market include Chuzhou Yinxing New Material Technology Co. Ltd., Evonik Industries AG, Fujian Super Tech Advanced Material Co. Ltd., Kingspan Group plc, Knauf Gips KG, LG Hausys Ltd., Microtherm Inc., OCI Company Ltd., Panasonic Corporation, Porextherm Dammstoffe GmbH, VA-Q-Tec AG.

Report Scope

Core material: fumed silica based, fiberglass based

Application: construction, refrigeration, warehousing & logistics, others
