Abstracts

According to Statistics MRC, the Global Glucose Syrup Market accounted for $XX million in 2016 and is expected to reach $XX million by 2022 growing at a CAGR of XX% from 2016 to 2022. Growing demand for convenience food, increasing demand for glucose syrup in baked food items and in candy preparation are some of the key factors fuelling the market growth. Moreover, need to curtail costs, strength of private label brands, R&D investments by food & beverages industries and increased competition among market players are the factors supporting the growth of glucose syrup market. However, adverse effects related to heavy intake of glucose syrup is restraining the market. In Emerging regions, due to their higher disposable incomes people are demanding more convenience food & beverages which has led to the growth of glucose syrup market.

By application, food & beverages segment is expected to dominate the overall glucose syrup market in 2016 and is projected to sustain its growth over the forecast period.
